TELEGRAMS

(By Havas Agency)

Paris, 9th—In the Chamber of Deputies yesterday the extreme left proposed a general amnesty for all parties connected in the riots on the 1st of May, and asked the Government to help them on this question. The Government opposed them and the Minister of the Interior having called for a vote they were defeated by 294 against 191. Owing to this, a split in the Chamber is expected.

Brussels, 9th—Most of the workmen in the metallurgical establishments in Belgium have struck. The situation is very alarming.

Lisbon, 9th—The monetary crisis here becomes greater every day owing to scarcity of gold coins. To establish confidence the Portuguese Government has ordered silver to be coined. The idea has been well received.

OPENING OF CONGRESS.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

President Pellegrini opened the ordinary Congress Session yesterday with the usual eclat surrounding such high functions. This is the second time during his short tenure of office that he has performed the ceremony, but under widely different circumstances. When opening the extraordinary session last December he was face to face with political difficulties that now have happily vanished; the financial difficulties are just as great to-day as then; if not greater. In December he walked through serried lines of badly-dressed, badly-drilled and dissatisfied troops: his rear and front were guarded by Krupp guns strategically pointed North, West, East and South. Yesterday His Excellency dispensed with the cavalry and artillery, and had occasion to note the enormous improvement in the drill and dress of the infantry. Yesterday, as in December, a sullen, discontented crowd watched his passage from the portals of the Government House to the humble doors of Congress: not a cheer rent the air, and to think that the same crowd cheered itself hoarse on the 6th of August.

The President and his suite were received with customary honours by a Committee of Congress: the reading of the Message, an abnormally lengthy and tiresome document, lasted an hour. Much of the interest attached to the presidential declarations was utterly lost in a maze of figures and diffusive literature; furthermore, the people had expected explicit and final declarations from the Government in financial and political questions, and herein they were disappointed. The President could have removed public anxiety by a few plain statements in as many lines; we must reserve for another issue an analysis of the President's Message; we merely now give the cursory impression the public received at a first glance. The document is certainly not satisfactory in the present emergency, but let us be thankful for small mercies, for His Excellency states at length his objections to fresh issues of paper money. There is no categorical statement that the Government will radically oppose fresh issues; the Message merely points out the bad results of such a policy. The chapter on banking reform leads one to expect that State banking will be abandoned, but there is such an amount of shifting in the whole tone of the Message that one is not a whit the wiser after perusing the 75 pages of the President's lucubration. In fact, the Message is unsatisfactory; people may read what they like between the lines, for there is an utter lack of straighforward and explicit language. This is not the kind of Message the country expected, and may account for the ominous silence of the people as the Chief Magistrate, his Cabinet, and the suite of Deputies and Senators marched in what may be termed a funereal procession.

The following is the President's address:—

Senators and Deputies. The republic enjoys profound peace. All the Provincial Governments are in harmony with the National Executive. Since my assumption of office, in spite of past agitation, there has been no serious revolt against law and order. At times we have sent troops to one or other province for the prevention of trouble, but without interfering with popular liberties. The only exceptional measure that I have been forced to adopt is declaring the city of Buenos Ayres in state of siege. This was inevitable in view of the excitement that prevailed, but happily I had not to resort to any severe expedients, beyond suppressing some newspapers that up stirred angry passions.

According to law of Oct. 1890 the elections for Senators were carried out in an improved manner, and without any trouble.

On the 30th August I proclaimed a general amnesty for military and civilians engaged in the previous struggle. I felt every confidence in the loyalty of the army, and the result shews I have not been mistaken.

Society is already beginning to recover from the shock which it received. The parties that were in open hostility have laid aside their arms, and we are on the high-road of constitutional progress.

It will always be for me a gratifying recollection that I have been Chief Magistrate at so trying a time, and that I have succeeded in saving the institutions of the Republic, and opening a new epoch of tranquillity and national development.

The Municipal election for Buenos Ayres has been carried out with complete liberty. The Corporation, meantime, is weighed down with a heavy debt, and Congress will be called on to devise some plan for raising funds. The Intendente has stopped many public works and made every possible reduction of expenditure.

The city police has been thoroughly re-organized and put on a civil footing. At the same time the expense of the force has been reduced $300,000 yearly.

We had much trouble in settling the question of the Bateman Legacy or City Improvements, which a London Company bought for the sum of £2,800,000 sterling and in the further carrying out of which the company also spent some millions of dollars. We have agreed to rescind the contract of sale, and to fix the actual cost at 25½ million gold dollars or £5,100,000 stg.

We have further agreed to give bonds in payment at 80 per cent. of their nominal value, bearing 5 per cent interest, and 1 per cent amortization. The contracting company binds itself, moreover, to complete the works, without prejudice to ulterior works over a wider area that are not very much wanted at present and which the Government will carry out at its own cost. The Minister of Interior will give you further details on this negotiation, which has rescued our city from an odious monopoly at the hands of a joint-stock company.

All attempts to colonise National Lands have heretofore failed. The last law passed on this subject, for the sale of 400,000 square miles, was part of a pernicious system which retarded the formation of colonies. We can point at present to concessions in recent years covering 60,000 square miles, in favour of private speculators who fail to carry out any of the conditions on which they obtained the lands.

We have, therefore, declared forfeit many of these concessions, the aggregate area of which exceeds 30,000 sq. miles. We propose to continue this course, and to restore to the Nation most of the lands obtained by concessionaires, except where the stipulated colonies have been established. The Public Lands may before long prove a valuable item in the assets of the nation.

The numerous railway concessions granted by Congress in late years have been given harum-scarum, without any general plan. Congress would do well to refuse any more concessions until a proper railway-system be devised for the whole republic. In Nov. 1887 a law was passed to sell the Andine Railway, from Villa Maria to Rio Quinto (Mercedes) for a sum not less than £1,200,000 stg. but we have been unable to effect the sale; a contract of sale made some time ago having fallen through. We have instructed our agent in London to try and sell this line.

The existing railways have in many cases caused great loss of products, not being provided with the necessary rolling-stock, but owing to the steps we have taken saveral of these lines have recently increased their rollling-stock, which permits us to look forward to a large harvest this year. The annual sum for which the Treasury is liable as regards railway guarantees is 4,500,000 dollars, and it is only right that we should compel the railway companies to do their best in the way of traffic.

During the past year we have approved the plans of some new railways, and also cancelled various concessions for want of fulfilment of the necessary conditions. These cancelled concessions are 17 in number, with a length of 4,770 miles.

There are at present 30 lines in construction or survey, with an aggregate length of 7,870 miles, including 440 miles at the cost of Government, and 4,020 miles of guaranteed lines. The length of new lines in construction or under survey is 3,310 miles over the length in 1890.

The new railways opened to traffic since Jan. 1890 are 2,100 miles, making the total length in actual traffic on the 31st March 1891 no less than 7,190 miles. These represent an actual outlay of sixty million pounds sterling, as compared with £47,000,000 sterling in 1890; irrespective of the outlay on lines not yet open to traffic.

During the past year we have inaugurated two docks of the Madero Port. The total outlay on this port to March 1st 1891 has been £3,300,000 sterling or 16,480,000 gold dollars. We have been obliged to suspend the works, and hope Congress will consider the best course to adopt. We continue, meantime, to dredge the Riachuelo channel, so as to admit ocean steamers. We have, moreover, improved the ports of Rosario and Concepcion. It is urgently needed to blast the obstacles at Martin Garcia and elsewhere.

We have had to suspend many public works, some for want of funds, others because the contractors demanded more money. Among such works are: the G. Northern Railway, Government House, the new Congress Hall, the Post Office, the Madero Port, besides bridges etc. These would cost many millions, as voted; but Congress omitted to provide the funds.

The Post Office has been quite reformed, and a clearance made of the clerks engaged in the frauds already notorious. We dismissed altogether 1,500 employees of this branch, some for fraud, others in order to reduce expenditure: a saving of two millions of dollars in the budget is thus effected. The business of the department is increasing, postal orders in 7 months ending March 31st 1891 amounting to 7,000,000. We are extending our system of telegraph wires, having laid down a new line to Tierra del Fuego viá Patagonia.

Our relations with foreign powers are most friendly. Mexico and Venezuela for the first time have sent Plenipotentiaries to Buenos Ayres. The boundary question with Chile is suspended on account of the civil war there. Our envoys to the Pan-American Congress at Washington have sent in their report.

We are improving the Consular service, and appointing Argentines as far as possible to all vacancies. We have stopped assisted passages from Europe, which has caused a decline in the tide of immigration. Thousands of those who came hither in late years were comparatively useless in a new country, but I am happy to say that the bulk of them has gone back to Europe.

The budget of Foreign Affairs has been cut down from $2,540,000 to $1,158,000, by suppressing some of our legations, emigration agents etc.

The Chilian Minister requested my permission for a corps d'armee of Chilian troops to cross our territory. In reply I stated that as troops in marching order they could not be permitted, but as private individuals they were free to go and come. Regretting as I do the war in Chile I have preserved the strictest neutrality.

The Argentine revenue in 1890 was $68,476,000 currency and $1,970,000 gold (say £5,100,000 sterling), making altogether $73,400,000 currency. The expenditure was $92,850,000 currency, leaving a deficit of 19½ millions currency (say £1,400,000 stg.)

The floating debt amounts to $10,200,000 currency and $700,000 gold (say £700,000 stg.)

The deficit arose wholly from special votes of Congress not included in the Budget and amounting to $30,800,000 currency.

Since the beginning of 1891 the Customs revenue has seriously declined merchants having despatched goods freely last December, in view of the new duties in gold. The total customs-receipts to 24th April were $14,050,000 currency, April shewing a great recovery.

After all possible reductions our expenditure for 1891 would be $39,400,000 currency and $19,700,000 gold (say £6,200,000 sterling), but for the London Moratoribus loan which saves us $10,800.000 gold yearly, say £2,200,000 sterling.

The ways and means for 1891 have been calculated at $26,000,000 gold and $26,500,000 currency (say £6,700,000 stg.) We think the receipts in currency may fall short of the estimate Among these is the tax on private banks, which is put down at $7,300,000 currency. I doubt also whether the new excise on alcohol &c. may yield $8,400,000 currency; the production of beer has fallen off.

The collapse of the Nat. Bank, owing the Treasury colossal amounts, causes some trouble, but we fully expect, the London Moratoribus being now happily settled, to be able to pay our way this year.

Trade-returns are flattering as we are getting the Balance of Trade into proper trim; imports declining remarkably, and exports increasing still more so. The tables shew

Imports ..	164,600,000	142,200,000
Exports ..	90,100,000	100,800,000
Total ..	254,700,000	243,000,000

Thus the excess of imports last year was only $41,000,000, against $74,000,000 in 1889. In the first quarter of 1891 we find:—

Imports	19,100,000

leaving a balance of trade of 20 millions in favor of the country.

One effect of the crisis has been to modify our Public Debt. We have, as already stated, concluded the Rothschild Moratoribus. We must, moreover, issue a new foreign loan of £4,700,000 in payment of the Bateman Legacy. The new guarantees on railways will involve an increased charge of £200,000 stg. per annum.

At present the Public Debt stands thus: foreign £18,800,000, total $157,100,000 gold or £31,400,000 stg. In the course of the present year, however, must be added £6,600,000 for the Bateman Legacy and £2,400,000 for the Consolidation Loan.

In this way the total debt may be said to reach 291,500,000$ gold and 43,200,000 currrency (together about £61,000,000 stg.) The annual charge is 19,700,000$ gold and 2,600,000$ currency: thus—

In gold	7,980,000
" scrip	11,740,000
" currency	2,580,000

If we succeed in settling the provincial debts in London by another Moratoribus this will be a further saving in the gold payments. We have charged Dr. Plaza to try it.

The crisis gets worse daily, and men are divided as to the best way to cure it. It has been brought on by wild-cat speculations. The Bolsa returns for 1889 shew the stocks of existing companies in that year reached 950 millions of dollars (nominally 190 millions £ sterling), as compared with 200 million dollars in 1886. Most of the stocks of said companies in 1889 were quoted at 150 (say 50 per cent. premium), whereas now most of them are at 40 per cent. downwards, being from 60 to 90 per cent discount.

Our unfortunate paper dollar, of which we have 260 millions in circulation, has sustained a loss of 200 per cent.

(His Excellency means 80 per cent, as nothing can be reduced more than 100 per cent.)

This is irrespective of the enormous losses that foreign capital has suffered. Not counting loans, we have 100 millions sterling of British capital in railways, &c., and the fall in these stocks in the last year shews a loss of 20 millions sterling.

We shall be certainly under the mark if we estimate the losses up to date since the crisis began at One thousand million dollars (nominally £200,000,000 sterling.)

The gold reserves in the National Bank were sold at 150 per cent (1) of a loss. The Nat. Bank now owes the Treasury $60,0000,000 currency and $2,000,000 gold. Such colossal losses may be laid at the door of those aided and abetted in the wild-cat speculations.

State-banks had a leading part in bringing on the crisis, by lending money freely without security. For more than a year the National Bank and the Provincial Bank have been practically insolvent, and all our efforts to save those banks have been fruitless. In the early part of 1890, the said banks prevailed on Pres. Celman to make a "clandestine issue" of paper-money in their favour: this amounted to $26,000,000 for the National Bank and $8,700,000 for the Provincial Bank of Buenos Ayres.

The sale of the Western Railway gave the Provincial Bank help amounting to $2,600,000 stg.

In August 1890 the Nat. Bank had nothing in hand but $450,000 gold and $411,000 cursency, while its obligations amounted to millions. We then issued $50,000,000 in Treasury Bills to save the Nat. Bank and the Mortgage Bank.

But the collapse of Baring Brothers precipitated the banks into fresh troubles. I was then requested to make new issue of paper-money, but preferred on March 5th to order a suspension of business for 5 days.

Ultimately I summoned a council of Notables, to which two projects were submitted. Mine was to issue 100 million metallic notes of forced currency, exchangeable for the present notes as one for two. The Notables, however, voted for a Patriotic Loan, and I acceded to this measure. Subscriptions reached $43,000,000, and of the proceeds we handed $10,900,000 to the Nat. Bank and $15,400,000 to the Provincial. This, however, proved insufficient. The two banks had exhausted in 12 months no less than $97,000,000 currency and £2,600,000 sterling in gold.

In such circumstances I had no alternative and was forced to shut the two State-banks.

There is a large number of persons who propose a new issue of paper-money to cure the crisis. But they do not reflect sufficiently. If we emit at all we must emit some hundreds of millions merely to enable the State-banks to pay their depositors, who will then either hoard the money or lodge it in the private banks.

Then the State-banks will be as penniless as before, unable to help merchants or farmers, and we shall have added some huudreds of millions to the currency to no purpose.

In my opinion, State-banks have had their day. I need not repeat what I stated in my decree of 7th April, but I may add that these State-banks were turned into National and Provincial Treasuries, the result being that the respective Governments grew careless in the management and collection of taxes, as the banks paid all deficits: the result is that the Provincial Governments are in serious straits.

These state banks cannot be allowed to disappear; their void must be filled for they are a vital necessity in our provincial mechanism. The private banks are not fit to take the place of the State banks, owing to the exclusively commercial character of their operations.

The best way out of the difficulty would be to correct the defects of the State banks, revive their credit, and enable them to continue their career. But it is necessary first know how these banks stand: they may in fact be in a state of solvency. If so the reform of the Banks would be easy.

Should they be insolvent the only remedy would be to replace them, to start new institutions with fresh capital, and that these take over the liquidation of the State banks. Both these eventualities have been studied by the Government, which is ready to frame a bill in either sense. Before doing this, however, it is necessary to appoint a Parliamentary Commission, with the co-operation of the Executive, to find out the true state of the Banks; this must be done quickly as the case is urgent.

Fluctuations in a currency are the bane of a country. Stability is the great desideratum. Unfortunately the conversion of our currency cannot be effected in a day; it must be achieved by an economic development which laws can strengthen and stimulate.

Our gold stock is enormously reduced and specie is still leaving the country. If our industries grow and we economise our stock of gold will grow and bring us within measurable distance of a resumption of specie payments. But the gold standard is an insuperable difficulty, for we need a stock of 75 to 100 millions gold for our enemy. In view of the scarcity of gold in the world it would be difficult to extract 15 to 20 millions gold from Europe. If we want a metallic basis we must resort to silver: all the objections raised against the silver standard may apply to Europe but do not affect us. The Executive will send you a bill in this regard.

The administration of Justice, as also its organization, has received from my Government the strictest attention. Many of our Magistrates have done all in their power to co-operate with me, particularly the Civil Court of Appeal, which was able to keep up with its daily business, spite of the numerous lawsuits of years past and not yet settled.

Various measures have been taken to improve the quick despatch of Justice in the various sections of the Justices of the Peace. These court rooms, which were indifferently attended to, have been reformed, and proper men put in office. The reforms in our Mining and Penal Code will be laid before you in due course. A Committee has been named to reform the bill in the Civil and Commercial Code edited by Amancio Alcorta and E. S. Zeballos. They have not sent in their report yet.

Our relations with the Holy See are harmonious. Father Pera has been proposed by His Holiness as Bishop of Salta.

Public Education progresses, in spite of the retrenchment forced on the Government; schools and pupils have alike increased in number. I have done everything to save this branch from the effects of the crisis, and it reached its highest stage of progress in 1890. There are 3233 public and private schools with 7054 teachers and 249,677 pupils. The increase in schools is 191, in teachers 951, and there is also a greater number of pupils.

In this city there were 1834 more pupils than in 1889 and also more in several provincial capitals. There is an increase of 72 in the school houses owned by the State, making 532.

The estimates for general education were $9,415,789, including two millions for Normal Schools, but not the subventions to provinces—one million. The ratio per inhabitant is $2.60, or $16 for each pupil.

The National Colleges and Normal Schools are also progressing and the latter have often to refuse pupils. Another National College is required in this city. A new plan for secondary education has been adopted. The University in this city has suffered from the crisis, through not having funds, for new laboratories, etc. etc.

The revolutionary events of last year helped to much disorganize the army and navy, but a policy of firmness and moderation have reestablished discipline and will keep both aloof from struggles in which they should never take part.

The great increase in our naval material has imposed heavy expenditure. The new cruiser, one of the best in the world, will soon be here. The two small iron-clads are in course of completion: the construction of the large iron-clad has been suspended. We have the finest torpedo flotilla in South America.

I think that I have one solemn, unique duty to fulfil, that is to raise the country from its prostration.

We must all unite and silence all other occupations and aspiration in this work of revival. There is much to be done, much to be reformed: let us save the country from bankruptcy first; later on we shall take up the task of other reforms. I shall enforce and preach peace, convinced that it is the great wish of my countrymen.

Messrs. Senators and Deputies,

I declare open the ordinary session of the National Congress.

LADIES' LETTER.

(From our own Correspondent.)

Paris, March 28.

An important social change is pending. Colleges and schools in France do not break up for the summer vacation till the close of July, resuming work the first week in October. It is proposed to break up three weeks earlier, returning to studies about the middle of September. A journal, following the English and American plan, has issued voting papers to all the school-boy world, inviting pupils to sign the "Yes" paper if in favour of the change, and the "No" if opposed to the alteration. The "Yeses" are in an overwhelming majority. Some pupils implore the editor to insist on retaining the old date (October) for returning to school. Not a few suggest that vacation commence on New Year's Day and end on the 31st December. Should colleges and lyceums break up about the 10th of July, seaside resorts will suffer, by driving away a stratum of early visitors who take flight when the school vacation sets in. The autumn visitors are generally old officials and their families, who like a dash of cold in the weather at the seaside. In any case there is a marked tendency to pass the holidays in some retired and mountainous district. The seaside has the advantage of favoring match-making and discovering new acquaintances.

Bachelors are winning all along the line. Hitherto their "At Homes" were enlivened by private theatricals, concerts, or some novelty in the way of entertainment. Ladies flocked to see the fun, and the Argus eye of Mrs Grundy at last saw nothing wrong in these soirees. Now the fashion is to accept invitations to gala dinners given by bachelors, not in hotels, where all is executed by contract, but in the host's own home. Formerly some lady relative of the bachelor's was deemed indispensable to receive, now we have changed all that. Some bachelors have acquired positive renown for the excellence of their dinners. Bachelors too are encroaching on another preserve hitherto sacred to hostesses; that of securing and trotting out lions on the moment of their arrival, or it may be a picture or a piece of statuary by an eminent artist, or the reading of a new play or novel by a distinguished composer. Dumas fils always fills his daughter's—Madame Lippmann—salon by reading his forthcoming play before the "invites."

Prince Napoleon did not exactly belong to society, so his death leaves no blank. His wife, the Princess Clotilde, disliked going into society, even when the Empress Eugenie shone brightest at the Tuileries. She preferred piety, charity, and the home education of her children. She taught her daughter, the Princess Lætitia, Italian, drawing, music and fancy work. She was a model wife of the Middle Ages that has strayed into the nineteenth century. Her happiness is to live isolated in her Chateau at Moncalieri, which is bleaker and more dismal than the Escurial itself. She had the good sense early to perceive that her's was purely a political marriage. Her father, Victor Emmanuel, told her to wed Prince Napoleon and she obeyed. The union was not unhappy in the sense of any quarrelling; in point of intellectual accomplishments. Princes Clotilde was on a par with the Empress Eugenie, and both possessed but little; she and her husband had great respect for each other—but no love. Neither interfered with the other. When Mme. de Deffand asked her lover how they lived so long so happily he replied: "Because, Madame, we are perfectly indifferent to each other." It is no secret that Napoleon III was a hen-pecked husband, and frequently complained of the jealous temperament of the Empress. "How can I cure her of that?" asked the Emperor one day of his rough and ready cousin: "Give her a good thrashing," replied Prince Napoleon.

There is one peculiarity about Palm Sunday in France—the absence of palm. That shrub is too dear and would have to be brought from Italy. This explains why the French patronize box, which is sold by the poor outside the churches, the purchaser getting it blessed inside. At Rome the Pope presents branches of real palm to the dignitaries of the church and the aristocracy; the length of the branch, sometimes over two yards, varies with the importance of the recipient; it is not green but specially dyed a golden wheat color with the spikes artistically festooned. French wives, no matter how free-thinking or indifferent may be their husbands, will always have a sprig of the blessed box in their bed chamber, as they museum their orange blossoms under a glass case in the sitting room. Both souvenirs are placed along with their remains in the coffin.

"Queen's weather" is sadly needed in the south of France, and it is to be hoped that Queen Victoria will bring a stock of that with her to Grasse. Perhaps Paris, or Lapland, has been the mildest winter residence this season. On the twentieth of this month—the first day of Spring by the almanac—a newspaper, in honour of the event, published telegrams of the temperature from the several mild regions of France, showing that, from 8 to 17 degrees below freezing point—as bad as in December—generally prevailed, with the ground more or less deeply covered with snow, varied by infant blizzards. Those specialists who claim to cure consumption, not by tuberculin, transfusion of goat's blood, or an elixir of Spanish flies, but from a residence in a cold region for some months, have had all the conditions they could desire. Grasse, the centre of odoriferous plant farming, is late this year in coming into bloom; the inhabitants say the flowers keep their petals closed until Queen Victoria arrives. But the French are notorious courtiers, though republicans. The residence of her majesty is not palatial; however, she has come to live rather in the open air than in the house. If the Queen would indulge in a pony drive to the Gulf of Juan, and pay a surprise visit to the French fleet anchored in their harbour, the people would be delighted.

May 7th

The Indian question in this country is being very quietly settled. The Pampa Indians, with some of the Araucanian blood in their veins, gave for many years a great deal of trouble, cost many lives and a deal of treasure; but when they were subdued, only within the last decade, our Indian question was to to all intents and purposes solved. We are more fortunate than our brethren in North America, but we must take into consideration the vast superiority of the North American Indian, who in many respects possessed the virtues of his conquerors. The struggle of the Seminoles to retain their independence in Florida was an epopee of valour and endurance. It took half a dozen campaigns and some of the best generals in the American army to vanquish these noble and warlike savages. Of the large number of aboriginal tribes, the ancient possessors of the soil, very few, after so many years of subjection and general kind treatment by the government, may be said to be civilized. The Cherokees, the Creeks and the Chippeways, I think, are the only ones in the United States. In Canada the Indian is far more advanced in civilization, owing to the uniform kindness, justice and consideration of the governments of that country.

The American and Canadian people mitigated, in the only way possible, the grief and sufferings of the conquered tribes by making over to them large tracts of territory where they were never to be interfered with by the white man, except to alleviate their wants. In this respect that policy of the Canadians has been eminently paternal and just; and we do not hear of the insubordination so common on the Reserves of the American Indians. It ought not to have been difficult, and certainly it would have been justice to have parcelled out reserves for our vanquished Indians, whom we dispossessed of their lands. But giving is, amongst all Spanish nations, always an obnoxious process. The system here has been to distribute the women and children as servants, and the men drafted into the army. It is true that the authorities have tried experiments of agglomerating a number of reduced Indians in villages, or what are called Reducciones, but the results have not been promising.

Now we have intelligence from General Donovan, that the "Last of the Mohicans," the formidable Chaco Cacique, Petizo, has submitted with all his tribe and adherents, amounting to six or 7 hundred families. (Please take it with a little salt.) If this be true, what are we going to do do with all these savages? The Chaco Indians are much more savages than the Panipa Indians.

With or without reason, I do not take it upon myself to say, but the resignation of General Roca is like the escape of steam by the safety valve from overcharged boilers. No one can deny, at least none but those obfuscated by political passion or personal interest, that General Roca planted the Upas tree that gave in the following administration such an abundant crop of its poisonous fruit. He has been the safeguard and providence of hundreds who in the righteous reaction of July were in imminent risk of being brought to book for their sins.

The importance of agricultural statistics has just been demonstrated, proving the absolute necessity of our governments taking immediate steps to obtain reliable data of the production of their different provinces. The question arose: Are we threatened with a famine, or is there still corn in Egypt? And there are no means of finding out to any even approximating certainty. Holders of grain naturally propagated the alarming intelligence that wheat and flour would run short for home consumption, and the consequence was that both articles rose in price, adding acuteness to the crisis by increasing the price of bread. Others contend that not only the stock in the country is abundantly sufficient for home consumption, but that there remains a large margin for exportation. The pessimists, real or interested, even went so far as to ask government to lay an export duty on wheat to prevent it leaving the country. If the optimists are right, then we have several millions of dollars worth of grain to export, and goodness knows every million of dollars to the credit of the country in these times is like manna to the Israelites.

Now, if we had efficient statistical departments in each province, such an economical dilemma could not have occurred; but we see at once the damaging result of ignorance on such an important subject. The doubts spread abroad as to the shortness of stocks have already augmented the price of wheat and flour, and even if there be an excess over domestic wants, which is doubtless the case, the high price will deter shippers from purchasing.

What is absolutely necessary is an efficient National and Statistical Department and a law making it obligatory for every producer in the country to send in once a year a note of the amount of his crop—be it wheat, maize, linseed mani, potatoes, hay, sugar or wine. It will answer no purpose to depend on the authorities of the provinces. We might as well ask the Cacique Petizo to square the circle as to expect anything useful from the Governors of provinces.

Talking of wheat, your P. D. played the very D. with his figures in an "On 'Change" paragraph. Of course typographical errors are unavoidablo, and they are of all natures, from those that madden the poet and rile the authors of pet articles in the newspapers, to the funny errors in figures, in which the Capital of Rosario has acquired fame, as their font of figure types seems tobe in a continual state of pie. But the STANDARD has almost rivalled its contemporary on this occasion. Your P. D. has made out that the country has 150 million tons(!) available for export. As a punishment I would set him to work to find the vessels for transporting it.

The friends of Mr. Pritchard, Manager of the London and River Plate Bank, are going to album him on the occasion of his departure for England. Mr. Pritchard's administration of the bank has been a safe and sound one.

RACING NOTES AND ANTICIPATIONS.

The last race meeting having taken place as late as Thursday last, the chief race for to-day, the Premio Mayo, a 1900 metre weight-for-age-cum-penalty contest, hasnot received the attention it undoubtedly deserves. Under other circumstances, betting on this event would have been fast and furious, as it promises to prove exciting: nevertheless, sufficient interest should be incited should a third of the entries, as is probable, see the post. The classic race is supported on the card by five other events, most of which have filled well, and it may be confidently expected that, weather permitting, a good day's sport will be provided.

Our selections are as follows:—

Premio Thalia—Laban.
" Ceres—Esperanza.
" Mayo—Stud Camors, or Vengador.
" Westminster—Miss Mary.
" Carpintero—Stud Casal.
" Araucaria—Azul.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Congress was opened at last yesterday with the usual formalities. The troops looked well and in marked contrast with their last appearance in public. The President's message is tremendously long, and we give it as "Extractum"—the most agreeable way of taking such medicine—in another column. There is nothing new but a good deal that is old in the Chief Magistrate's long discourse; in fact it is a decidedly Talleyrandish production in which the President has effectually concealed his thoughts on the solution of the crisis and left the ticklish business to Congress.

We have to thank Mr. William Pilling for supply of clothes for the Naposta people.

The Clerk of the Weather was in tears yesterday evening after he had read and digested the President's Message. "Absit Omen."

The Southern Railway manager likes to see young people amusing themselves, and to accmomodate the "Cinderellas," will run a special train at one o'clock on Tuesday morning, to Bursaco and all intermediate stations.

At this time of crisis and dear food it is refreshing to come into contact with something really good and cheap. We have received a sample of the new digestive food for porridge, ect. It appears to be wholesome and satisfying, and Dr. Arata's analysis guarantees its efficacy as a flesh and bone producing agent. We recommend our dyspeptic friends togive it a fair trial.

We have been favoured with the "Boletin de Sanidad Militar" for May. It is full of well-written interesting matter.

Yesterday a boy in a carpenter's shop in Calle Suipacha died in such dreadful agony that he jumped and flung himself about as if raving mad. Four months ago he put in his mouth while at work several small tacks, and accidentally swallowed three of them. The doctors could do nothing for him. This is a caution to boys and girls who put pins or any pointed things in their mouths.

A Bahia-Blanca correspondent writes: "On Tuesday evening last a dance was given at Grunbein Station by the employes on the Bahia Blanca section of the Tres Arroyos extension. A special train was run from El Puerto to the scene of the proceedings at 8 p.m., and returned at 4.30 on Wednesday morning. The ball-room was tastefully decorated with flags, trophies, etc., and the fashionable company which had assembled were enabled to show forth their dancing powers to advantage by the aid of an excellent band. The supper, which was supplied by Sr. Lamberti, Hotel Londres, Bahia Blanca, was beyond all praise. The youth and beauty of the neighbourhood, having enjoyed themselves to their utmost, were conveyed to El Puerto at 4 a.m., Wednesday, by the Special."

Our Chubut friends and subscribers (friendship and subscription—especially if the latter be paid well in advance—form a link of steel) Messrs. William E Richards, Guylyn Williams, John Nichols, Eduyn Roberts, George Williams, Humphrey P Jones, John Coslett Thomas, Eramus Jones, William Henry Puyh and Mihougel have obtained from the National Mining Department the right of exploration and discovery in their search for gold in the Territory up to the 25th of March next. We wish them every success, and hope they will send a few big nuggets to the STANDARD's Museum.

The revelations made by Senator Hernandez in yesterday's Prensa as to the profits of the grain business in this country made the citizen's hair drop out in handfuls. No wonder bread is dear. The scandals of the meat supply are nothing to the way in which the public is fleeced to make fortunes for grain growers, merchants, brokers, millers, bakers, fideo-makers and the whole tribe. Senator Hernandez deserves public thanks for exposing the system.

Another break has taken place in the ranks of the old English residents, through the death of Mrs Wilkes, which took place on the 6th inst. at the house of her daughter. Many will feel the want of her genial smile and kindly word, and we are sure that all who had the good fortune to be acquainted with her will join in our sympathy with the bereaved family.

A municipal meat stall will be opened to-day in Belgrano. The prices will be the same as in the La Plata market—25 cents the kilo for prime meat.

The Committee of Ladies who have the proposed Boys' Orphanage in hands in, tend to hold another meeting on Tuesday next and hope that all the supporters of the movement in city and camp will either attend or be represented on the occasion. The first meeting was so successful that little doubt need be entertained as to the much-needed institution soon becoming an accomplished fact.

Judging by appearances we are going to have "Fiestas Patrias" this year as free as the Free Banks. The "vecindario" are invited to hang out flags freely from their housetops; Mr. Cabral has volunteered to supply Ethiopians and horses for the Triumphal Car free; Mr. Picard will decorate Plaza Victoria for nothing; Mr. Lanus will Business.

To elect a President, a Vice President, ten Members of the Committee, and three Substitutes, the Committee having on the 22nd day of April 1891 passed the following resolution:—
"That in view of the alleged irregularity of the election of the new members of this Committee, and in order that there should not be the slightest question whether these members were legally elected or not, this Committee hereby resign, and agree to submit themselves to re-election by another general Meeting hereafter to be called."
Mr. W. G. Bullin has given due notice of the following motions:—
1—That the part of Statute 9 after the words "have given" on line 7, be substituted by the following:—
"Written notice thereof to the Secretary who shall place it on the notice-board 10 days previous to the day fixed for said meeting."
2—That Rule 23, as it now stands be erased, and the following adopted in its stead:—
"A General Meeting shall be called by a notice posted on the notice-board, and advertised in such of the Buenos Ayres daily papers as the Committee may consider necessary for at least seven days previous to the day fixed for the Meeting. Such notice shall state the business for the transaction of which the Meeting is called."
3—That in Rule 24 the following addition and alteration be made:—
The insertion of the following sentence after the word "Meeting" on line 6:—
"When it has once been ascertained that a quorum is present, the subsequent proceedings of the Meeting shall be legal, notwithstanding that the number of members present at any time may fall short of the quorum originally required."
Also, the erasement of the words "then present" on line 7 between the words "not" and "the," and the insertion therein of the following:—"Present within the time above specified."
4—That on line 5 of Rule 31 the word "previously" be changed for the following:—"Previous to the day fixed for said lecture, essay, or debate.

Saturday, May 9.

The business of the first hour to-day was very meagre, and it was apparent that merchants and brokers were all anxiously awaiting the opening of Congress and the President's Message to glean some idea of the new departure about to be inaugurated, for it seems to be taken for granted that the old policy of a fresh issue for every need is no longer practicable. As Congress did not open till after the ring, conversation rather ousted business, and the consequence was that very little was done. Gold was a trifle weaker, the ounce declining to 58,90 and closing at 59.10, which gives an equivalent of 363¾ %, whilst sovereigns fell to 18.40. In stocks there was the same listless feeling, National Bank shares dropped to 35.50, Constructors to 5.90 and Catalinas to 8.60. Cedulas were comparatively neglected and prices a shade lower.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares at the first ring to-day.

For cash..M 25,450 at 39-38.80
For cash..N 111,000 at 39-38.60
For cash..O 79,000 at 38.90-39-38.60 80
For cash..P 3.500 at 40.70-50

Our esteemed colleague El Dia of La Plata, commenting on the fact that the call for tenders for Cedulas to be amortized had resulted in the expenditure of $60,000 more than would have been the case had the Cedulas been purchased in the Bolsa, attributes the cause to the Cedula Holders' League, which, by locking up millions of Cedulas, stifles competition. As a matter of fact, only 17 tenders were sent in, but the rates on an average shew an advance of 15 % on the market rate, which is not excessive cousidering the circumstances.

Messrs. M. H. Alfonso and J. M. Irigoyen have requested the Camara Sindical to remove their names from the brokers' roll.

Advices from Rio announce a probable change in the Cabinet, which, it is expected, will tend to improve

Although the hall and ring wore rather a deserted village air at the second hour, there was much satisfaction expressed at the attidude assumed by the Government in the emission question. President Pellegrini manifested a most determined antipathy to all further issues of shinplasters, and as this was soon known on 'Change, it created the most favourable impression. Gold slackened off somewhat; nothing much, it is true, but still enough to shew a change in the tendency, and it was significant, furthermore, to notice that cheques on the National and Provincial Banks, which had been done in the morning at 14 %, were soon doing at 16 to 17 %. This means clearly that the discounters have less faith in emission, and have accordingly put up the rates. Of course, everything rests with Congress, where there is, we believe, an anti-emission majority; but even should this not be so, it is asserted by those who profess to be well informed that the President will put his prerogative to practical use and stamp out all such pernicious attempts. The ounce closed at 58.90, which gives an equivalent of 362 %, and stocks all round shewed no change, business being very dull.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks and shares to-day at the second ring :—

Sovereigns—

Holders of the full-paid-up Patriotic Loan Bonds will be pleased to learn that Dr. Lopez is considering a means of refunding all except the 50% so as to place all the subscribers on the same level. The difficulty is that many paid by cheques against deposits, and how these are to be refunded remains to be seen. It is always good news, however, to know that the matter is under consideration.

Muy Señores Mios,

Tengo el gusto de comunicar a Vds. que las 4 maquinas de Esquilar sistema Wolseley me han dado un resultado satisfactorio y no quer a darles este informe hasta no haber concluido con la esquila de borregas. La maquina trabaja bien, esquilamos con facilidad cualquiera oveja por mas fina y arrugada que sea: saca mas lana que la tijera y tiene la ventaja de no cortar, pero si en algunos casos rasguña descuidandose el esquilador. Estas lastimduras sanan facilmente, y se ha en cada vez menos cuanto mas practica se adquiere. No he notado que se me hayan muerto animales por esta causa.

Convencido de su eficacia pienso colocar doce aparatos para la proxima esquila y creo poder hacer facilmente el trabajo con ellos. Puedo asegurar a Vds. que los esquiladores mas torpes aprenden facilmente, prefiriendo las a la tijera.

Pueden Vds. darle la publicidad que gusten.
